Holt's Catalogue Subscription Refund Policy

Holt's Auctioneers at their discretion, refund in part or full, the catalogue subscription where we have failed to meet our obligation.

Please Note:

While every effort is taken by Holt's to create a catalogue for each sale of Fine Modern and Antique Guns, and to package and dispatch in good order, we cannot be responsible for any short comings of third party handling and delivery agents.

Furthermore, Holt's primary source of information regarding the auction of Fine Modern and Antique Guns remains the online catalogue whose creation and accessibility precedes the 'hard copy' catalogue that is the subject of subscription. The online catalogue is regularly updated and amended, even after the production and dispatch of the printed 'hard copy' catalogue. Therefore the information contained in the 'hard copy' catalogue is subject to amendment and purchasers must always refer to the Holt's website for the latest published list of extra lots and amendments.

However if you remain dissatisfied with the quality of the Holt's hard backed catalogue please contact Holt's and explain how we have failed to achieve your expectation, and we will be delighted to consider a full or partial refund upon return of any catalogues received. Refunds will be offered at the discretion of the directors.
